

Chrystal Jolliffe

Columbus Industries, Inc

Chrystal Jolliffe has over fifteen years experience in Product Development Management at Columbus Industries, Inc. While her area of expertise is residential HVAC filters, she has successfully developed products in many other categories as well, including portable air purification, dehumidifier, and activated carbon filters. She studied engineering at Columbus State University and later obtained a Bachelor of Science, majoring in marketing, at Franklin University.